PRESS TEXT

TONSAMMLER is Milan-Joel Pawlick, who grew up between Augsburg and Munich. Electronic music has been part of his life for ten years: from techno around 125 BPM, through a short, fast phase of hardtechno and Schranz, to the realisation that it's not about faster and harder, but about deeper and more reduced.

Today the name stands for minimal, deep house and techno that take their time: deep, driving, repetitive loops that leave room for interpretation while still building energy. "Collecting feelings through sound" is more of an attitude than a slogan. Long sets are his strength, up to eight hours all night long.

More than 60 gigs, among them Gruam, YOU LOFT and Katchin at Feierwerk in Munich, plus festival slots such as Laut In Love Festival near Berlin. As co-founder of the IMPEDANZ collective he has run ten events of his own in Augsburg, from concept and booking to design and promotion. His debut EP "I" came out in October 2026.
